There is no quit in Lucy. She and I are commiserating with the dinghy - and the ball - the ball is winning. Enjoy Florida

The dinghy!!! Can't wait to take it out for a spin!! And Lucy is nonstop! If you need a break just hide the ball from her and she will take a break 😂 we do it all the time!!

If you put it away she will lay down and chill-ax

Melissa

Florida is great!! Can't wait to have you and Carol visit! We learned there is a direct flight from Lehigh valley into st. Pete!! 🤔

Hi Stephen,

Mom & I are going over the Christmas schedule. Everything looks fine with the dates you sent us.

We are hoping you'll be able to stay for early Christmas morning Santa gift opening with Bash & Rumi.

Also, since you're thinking of coming here some days after Christmas, we'd like to schedule a horse-drawn carriage ride for the four of us on Dec 29. Let us know as soon as possible, cause the rides are in high demand.

Lastly, we are going with Sarah, Nevan & kids to NYC on Dec 28 to see the Rockettes. They'll fly home from there, so won't be returning to Bethlehem. But we'll be home the evening of Dec 28.

Go Eagles

Go BIRDS!

I will call you tomorrow about above text. Any specific time work best?

Dad

Yes. You told Mom
Dec 29 was good. 👍
She made horse-drawn carriage ride reservations for the four of us at 5:20 on Dec 29.
Hotel B dinner reservations at 7:30, also on Dec 29.
Give a call tomorrow.
Anytime.
Call Mom's phone.

I just spoke to Alexis, a nurse at Nurse Navigator, a division of Tampa General Hospital that helps with resources alignment, booking appointments, etc. Very nice person and eager to help.

She is reaching out to EliteDNA, based in Largo, Florida. EliteDNA is a psychology and psychiatric clinic so they have both. She said they are very good and tend to have the earliest availability. She knows them well and is calling them this morning. I've asked for in-person but she gave me a heads up that there will be an initial screening via Telehealth but it will be in-person thereafter.

Alexis said she would contact me by phone and via messages in my patient portal called "MyChart" which I now have as an app on my phone

I will have more details shortly.

Great Stephen-thanks-good news

And I have therapy at 4:45-5:45pm today. It is 5 blocks from home so I will come home first, feed Lucy, then go to therapy.

5/8/24, 4:12 PM

May 29th at 10am in my intake call with a coordinator from EliteDNA. Just scheduled. After that I will have next available appointment scheduled with appropriate doctor. They said it would be scheduled only weeks after the 29th of May, not months. Good news

Dad

Very good news
