How's life brother

its good man, got married this past weekend. went well. hbu?

Yea!!!! He'll yes. How your feel!?

Typos in there! How you feeling! Amazing right

I was mad nervous man real stressed out leading up to it my main focus was making sure it was the perfect day for her slept like 4-5 hours per night and then the ceremony happened and after was like a blur, went by super fast, then I woke up and it was a wrap tbh -- happy its over, great weekend, super nice experience but my body isn't built for that kinda shit it was the first time in my life i felt old not what i woulda wanted, but i did it for her

Hahah you just described every feeling I had during mine as well

To a tee

i was totally cool with getting eloped and then going on a trip just the two of us to relax but women, they have this vision so i just went with it

Laughed at "Hahah you just described every feeling I had during mine as well"

Liked "To a tee"

She's a gem. Congrats

Thanks man

How's that ring feel?

As if planning our wedding and attending it within 21 days wasn't enough pressure, we bought a house last Tuesday as well

Add that into the mix, the week was a pure shitshow

Ring feels natural dude

Dude! Amazing! Details please! We have submitted several offers with no luck yet

I was wearing it for a week prior fits like a glove

Loved "fits like a glove"

Here are the numbers: Looking for a home pre-pandemic, up until now, in total 18 months of searching

We stepped foot in 146 homes

Made 16 offers

No way

Never came in first place including this one..

Link to new digs?

https://www.realtor.com/realestateandhomes-detail/83-Gordonhurst-Ave_Montclair_NJ_07043_M55921-70567 we are thru attorney review, full inspection on friday, closing 8/15

8500 sq ft!? That accurate? LOVE ITTTTT. Damn NJ prices are high man Fuckin baller crib yeah NJ and NYC are expensive taxes are 21k per year we are 20 minute train ride from nyc Emphasized "taxes are 21k per year" most beautiful neighborhood in the state, one of the most desirable towns to live in the country

Insane

Congrats

housing prices in this country raise guaranteed 6-8% per year its fuckin insane

So much congrats all around with you hahaha I can't keep up county*

we lucked out entirely on this home we lost the bid, came in second, but the winners were from the UK

My buddy bought in Austin for $425 three years ago and it's $915k zestimate now and the owners liked our letter on how we are getting married this weekend and want the home to be apart of our story

Bet yours rises faster than 6-8

yeah

So the love letter worked?

not trying to leave for a couple years yeah it did

Our realtor said don't bother it works especially if you are close we got the house and if it wasn't for the letter i don't think we would have won

Our wedding officiant also our realtor haha he's good, just said he's never seen one work but won't stop us if we do it i told them chinese lucky numbers are 8 and my lucky number is 3

83 we got it put it bluntly, im just excited to have a hobby to focus on they put a brand new garage on the property one bay is an office, the others is a finished garage gonna turn it into a woodworkers den and my work office so i have like a 100 step commute, where i can eventually leave at the end of the day i think that will be nice

Amazing

yeah, really excited i was getting my haircut underground at Chrysler building no service missed the call from our realtor

We are shopping on one income on my end so budget not as high but totally cool she's in school and we wanna move ASAP

Great story man must have felt great my brother just did the same thing, bought a home in ramsey NJ 25 minutes north of me we are already going to commit to a "tool family" so we can swap and shit lol

you'll eventually land something i'd say in the past month, the market has cooled off we bid out 17 bids for this house we had some bids in for homes that were 45% over asking and we lost one house had 42 bids, the owners had to shut down the showings after the second day just ridiculous shit we're gonna rent out our NYC apartment, and probably buy another small studio like a 400sf thing

Yea good idea the real estate market here is fuckin ded

Thinking of buying a luxury RV motorhome and doing the same haha dude those are selling at a premium

Also renting at a premium alberta's boss just bought one and has been using it while she renovates her home in dallas yeah, weird times we live in feels like the largest bubble of all time

Right !?

i don't understand it anymore

Very unnerving

yes, very.

esp after living through 2008/9 i feel like its going to hit soon, right on recovery of covid in some fucked up ridiculous way

You walk away with any UiPath stock?

nah

hbu?

I have an ungodly amount of Alteryx stock

Yea...left about 50 percent vested shares on the table. Still valued at $198k tho that's not bad

Got some stock at new gig but can't tell yet what course we are on Sales team is a bit amateur same at my company

New Salesforce CRO brought me in .

my marketing manager just resigned and my PTC old guard is all leaving

Good culture tho? That's why I picked this company dude, i wake up at 10a and i work till 5

its fuckin coast

Haha

im highly regarded and respected Mine is too but I got #s to get to to make bigger bucks so gotta move on the opportunity i have a program on my computer that runs in the background to show i am active and i do like 10-15 mile bike rides in the middle of the day

I think blockchain is gonna smoke my company if they don't get on board tho to me, the job is boring but it pays, and my benefits are nuts lollll yeah, i fuck with that will be fun when uipath takes everyones jobs or when companies go full remote and move jobs to india remember call centers?

gonna take over all white collar jobs promise you

lots funny world we live in nah, i got out of it in 2018 used the profits to buy this home

Haha I just stream Hulu and I'm active when I'm not

Works

Good for us bro...good life

Truth

I'm rooting for them

haha

Not all

Can't

Low value white collar

Yes

Middle management gone

You in crypto?

I got heavy into it. Scaled back

Learned a lot

Yea I pulled my profits for the down payment. Remaining investment still in there

Then it crashed its all bullshit

Then we didn't get the bud accepted biggest bubble of all time 95 percent of shit coins will be gone. That's the bubble. Regulated Crypto is here to stay feels like dot com

The technology isn't going anywhere agreed

you know the tech /= the currency tho two different things

Yes fully aware

You sound like me

yeah

most ppl have no idea what they are buying

I'm in three only

BTC, ETH, DOGE

LMAO

ETH, Chainlink, and Ripple's XRP is my high risk massive upside bet

DOGE man

ETH is solid, LINK is gonna do well, my buddy just started working there

XRP.. i think it lost its way

That's the one I track the most. The SEC battle with ripple is all on purpose. Hard to buy. It's dominating volume and accumulation

Consolidating big time

yeah

I use a Dutch exchange haha then move it to wallets guy i know that committed suicide was one of the top 8 in XRP his estate is now worth $8 Bn no wife, no kids went to his parents both 70+ years old

that's how i heard about XRP back in 2015 hahah

I mean not funny

Sorry

Really sorry

all good, but yeah

I was talking to Melissa and just reacted unconsciously he was a founding member, i remember telling him he was high

Def didn't mean to laugh he asked me about it cuz i was formerly in banking

Right

and i was like dude, this is retarded no way look at me now just a slut to society while he is dead, but rich af so i guess, nothing..

Did he have it through a trust?

That's my concern is setting it up right so Melissa gets it in the event I get hit by a bus

yeah

the money is all safe for his family nothing can prepare a parent for that kinda shit tho and no amount of money, even 8Bn can bring them back

puts a lot into perspective

My account feels so small now

Like it was in a cold pool kinda why I've been pulling back from my focus on my career doing less focusing on my life mental health and well being

Love it

I feel pressure to provide haven't really had a hobby for 4 years now since grad school tbh i might do some part time teaching at montclair state or at NYU

Do it. Very rewarding yeah, you loved it

You'd be great and i want to get back into it

Disrupt higher education within the classroom

Only way

yeah

We ripped up the syllabus

Literally

that's amazing

Set the tone

All As, some Bs, and always a few Fs

Was like real life

yeah

i work with a lot of lazy shitty middle managers at my company its funny because if its acceptable, it just sets the tone its been a big change for me mentally but there are days i don't even open my laptop and the CSO and CEO just call me to chat other days gonna take up golfing next year too, im planning on joining a country club in nj gonna do some lessons

Invite me to ball out and I'll barter with a couple days of lessons!

I'd teach golf full time if it paid lots of people I've been brushing shoulders with through my wife golf and i hate saying no i don't have clubs or know really how to play well figure its probably something that would connect me with them and get me out of the house again, a new hobby..

its been all work while living in this 800sf box in nyc

The beauty of golf is you don't have to be good for people to love playing with you

It's all the etiquette around being bad that matters

And being a fun dude

And not taking it too seriously

All you right there

And knowing the basics of do and do TD

Donts

Like that time I almost ripped a ball through a moving car at the bethlehem country club

 Like that time I almost ripped a ball through a moving car's windshield at the bethlehem country club...

got that had my heart rate going god

Hahaha seen it happen several times

Especially at that course haha

Was my high school course

Imao

note to self, never drive that road

Only when you're playing!

where you lookin at buying a house?

PA?

Main Line if you know the area. Philly burbs

Where we are now

Poshy posh posh

what do houses run out there sf?

600k for 2500sf?

Yea about that

Higher

Nothing under 500

800k for 2500?

Depends

Looking 550-675 is range

3/10/23, 9:41 PM

when is the next TE silicon valley bank trip?

HAHAHA

I just laughed out loud

Was just thinking about that trip

lmao

i had to come with a joke sent it to curley too and he was loln what a time to be alive

It's wild man. I need a big boat and a bug out plan

3/12/23, 2:22 PM

How have you been brotha? Wanna catch up tonight?

Delivered

can't tonight but maybe later this week
