John Roman

Good morning.

Steve and I like to sit and talk about the AI possibilities, Thursday or Friday next week with you for your company.

First sit down is really learning about scope of what the company does and needs, and figure out how we can help. From there you can determine how or if it's beneficial to sit down with your company's decision makers.

When you have day/time, we'll make it happen. Can meet at LT or anywhere. Maybe hour of your time 😊

6150 Gulfport blvd S code for entry is 1010 and I'm in 309. Looks like it will be a perfect night to grill out. I only eat meat so if you'd like sides you're welcome to prepare something in my kitchen. Looking forward to seeing you all!

Jeremy Dolan

There is plenty of guest parking usually but if there's a problem I can move my motorcycle to free up an extra space

John Roman

Steve & Melissa

6150 Gulfport blvd S

At the gate to enter, simply enter the code for entry is 1010 get in and he's in 309.

Enroute

My bad but coming

I am amply stocked with supplies

John Roman

When you're facing the condo complex from the road, it's the far right building 6150

Punch in 1010 on the gated door and come straight up the staircase

Where is the guest parking?

Never mind, I found it

The shiny glare of John's new car blinded me from them

John Roman

Just ran it through the wash

4/9/24, 10:06 PM

Wow, that pen really rocked me. I'm back in one piece. Great night tonight, fellas

Been thinking through your HOA Ai meeting stuff.

This doesn't address the near term challenges you mentioned really (like the AI skepticism colliding with regulatory privacy recs, etc.)..."

but am wondering if you've already roadmapped the merge point of integrating an already super mature mind mapping tech as one of the multiple, templatized HOA specific outputs after a call concludes and the ai transcribes, summarizes, formats to a, b, c needs of your market

Willing to bet it's not a feature in super high demand given what I heard from you but just a first blush on your market there assuming you do have it mapped to converge given y'all have the unique market position with an established mind mapping capability . Now I'm remembering you mentioned your AEs are ready to upsell, renew, etc so sounds like it

Curious if the HOA market has shown interest in the AI meetings producing HOA mind map templates from the minute notes in general as it leads me to another idea to share

Edited

And/or...another feature...

integrating a non profit board calendar for example to the mind map output ...

if you turn on task management within mind maps

...and reminders too it can all go to a shared HOA calendar integration where they can individually integrate their own calendars to the platform calendar if they want ...

But alternatively they could de-risk and subscribe to a single board shared calendar that acts more like an private RSS feed just by subscribing to it to ease up the regulatory concerns.

Edited

That is all

4/24/24, 8:31 PM

Anyone gonna be at LT later?

I feel like jammin on some ideas I got brewin.

The kinda ideas a single white Kratom with ice sweetener pairs really well with. Add a side of two stud-ly thinkers and we got ourselves a soirée nightcap

Jeremy Dolan

Yep

Jeremy Dolan

Legit only had butter in my fridge and bacon so just went for a grocery run to TJ

John Roman

I'm buried in some Keyword Research for YT and seeing what is best for 30 Video Ideas. Have to add "digital minimalism" and some others Tiago has around organization, not that we narrowed Ai-M down to what it's all about Using dual monitor helping.

Call in to talk however, as I'm game to brew

On my way

6/4/24, 11:28 PM

Was told it was starlink satellites but i check their location and none were close and not this many

John Roman

About to ask if ya had something

John Roman

Lots we don't know. Aint no satellites

I heard spacex star link satellites are a linear visual and its primary purpose is to broadcast low cost internet to rural places ...

but look how many are up there already and their goal is to get to 42,000
