Mom

Stephen & Melissa,
I'm thinking of you both with so much love.
Always 💕
First thing every morning and last thing every night, I think of three things I'm grateful for.
You are, and always have been, on my list.

Remember that every decision made with love is the right decision.
Thank you for letting loved ones into your lives who can be there for you.
Dad is one of those loved ones. Aren't we all blessed to have him.
Please give him the biggest, longest hug for me.
Then hug Sweet Lucy for me, too. 💕

Imma big hug kinda guy.

Stephen, Dad just showed me the video you sent of his song.
Made me cry. 💕
I'm overwhelmed and so happy.
What a beautiful collaboration of talents.
Thank you.
I love you. 💕

You're welcome. I just sent all the Dali father son images but here they are so you have on phone.

Mom, did this video arrive blurry?

Mom

Brilliant work, Stephen!
We keep studying them, finding new surprises tucked away in their own symbolic spaces.
Your creativity is stunning. And the use of black and white adds a fascinating dimension.
Thank you for these.
Do you plan to give them titles?

Mom

Video is crystal clear.
Beautiful.

They are all drafts of the single version I ultimately will land on. None have the elements of dad's painting and hidden meanings I plan to tuck in the backgrounds and the two subjects don't embody the original inspiration photo of dad putting my foot in concrete so I want to create the final version to look similar to the positioning of both subjects. Attached is the reference image I was starting with

Mom

What a meaningful gift you're giving to Dad.
He'll treasure it forever.
Me, too. 💕
I love the connection you and Dad have.

Dad will be wearing the freakin' grill instructor apron you gave to him a few years ago!
So freakin' cool to hear from you two, the loves of my freakin' heart.
