Hi Emily. The Google Doc called "Emily's Messages" or something like that, has the login information for twitter and dripify. Let's focus on dripify first. There are about 100 messages. I did not get to cleaning them out last night.

What time would you be able to do that again? As in get through all responses. I think you told me

Okay I am going to start working on a couple soon. Should I let you know after a few so you can check them?

yes please

Do 10

Okay sounds good

I did responded to about 10. About 6 in Jon's and 4 in yours. I am unsure about what to do about one from Cece Ba from Jon's inbox.

I replied to Cece.

Rest look good

Okay I'll keep going then

If someone says they want to share their podcast what should I say

I don't know how to respond to Linika Berinyuy in your inbox

I cleared all of them except the linika one and Linsey Grove

For each of the three accounts, in each inbox you will see a drop down option to mark as "important"...for any you don't know the response to, mark them as important, then please send me an email after each batch of messages you do an summarize how many are marked important for each of the three accounts and then I will jump in once every 1-2 days to clear the important folder within dripify

Let me know if that doesn't make sense

Yes that does! Should I send you an email for those two people?

Yes please and any others needing me to look at

I only have 2 that I marked important today but there a lot of them in the important folder for now. Is that okay?

Yes that's by mistake I have to clear all of them except the ones you've marked. I it has to be done one at a time

Feel free to clear all important marked in all three inboxes

Okay thank you

Hi Emily, I cleaned up the dripify important inbox. Messages are coming in

Okay! I'll probably look at clearing them out soon

Ok great. And let's start with the "reply guy" twitter strategy Monday or so. The credentials are in the google drive, so start with setting it up, logging in, and having it on your phone for quick action on replying to people's posts

We can talk Monday if that works for you

Okay sounds good! I'm at a camp all next week. I can do a call at 6 or after

Ok invite sent for 630 on Monday

Please clear dripify today and we'll talk Monday! Have a great weekend!

Okay sounds good!

For some reason Twitter is not letting me log in with either the username or the email

Ok try now. The user name was incorrect. My bad!

Worked for me

Yup it's all good now

Didn't we schedule a meeting for 6:30 tonight

I'm free to respond to the LinkedIn messages tonight

I'm adding the event now to our calendar for 630pm . Sounds good on LinkedIn

Okay sounds good

How is everything going? Any questions I can answer ? Also let's talk Monday what time works?

Everything is going well! I've been replying to the dripify messages. I sent you important ones from the past 2 days. I am free whenever Monday

Yes

Thank you so much!

Is there an address I can put on the form?

I just wanted to let you know that an email was sent out about you reviewing my internship info for my school. If you could fill that out whenever you get the chance that would be awesome!

Ok do I have a deadline to return it? My wife had a death in family so I am away all week in Florida forgot to tell you. If it need a rush, can you ask Jon?

I'm sorry for your loss. I will look into it and probably end up asking Jon.

Ok let's slide that responsibility to Jon if we could please. Also, can you let Jon know if he has any important messages in his inbox to respond to ?
