I need an outside office

I work outside all day

It's very rewarding subconsciously like you didn't sit at a computer all day even when you did. I also change locations at least twice if not more a day

I also picked up a new best practice for myself. I pick the spot I work based on the work I have to do.

Bigger, open, ideally outdoor spaces for bigger picture creative thinking

Smaller environments for study-like work or writing and such

That's a solid idea

Did you see noncompetes are banned by ftc and you can now get any job you want

4/24/24, 11:06 PM

I heard it was coming your breaking news I didn't realize closed this is kinda stunning like wtf right? Why non competes? What happened to make this change. I guess I like it but I kinda don't I need to think more on it why would you not like it? Go work for any ai company you want now, your old boss/guy suing you has no power to stop you any more

I'm judging it based on the whole not just me. Next year I'll be on the other side of the table solar or not solar yeah and you can also go build your based awesome solar thing that's gonna change the world right now and homie can do fuck all about it

4/25/24, 12:14 AM

I also wanted that on the table for my negotiations which are coming up, now I can't ask for more to sign it because its a mute point

Id rather sign the separation agreement with the non compete being something they want to sure up and have in a signed copy after a hopeful settlement with several factors aligning to the settlement amount , but lost this card, not a huge card in my specific rumble so I'm happy for that.

Ugh that made some sense. I'm beat. Talk soon for sure

4/25/24, 11:16 AM

I think I followed, and I still think you gaining the ability to make Solar by Steve today that outweighs that card you didn't really need anyway and won't hurt your lawsuit since you're the employee in this case so it's to your advantage.

Also, it's bullshit that a personality conflict can kick someone out of an entire industry, so I love it on that basis

You can't use shit you built for them but you can make new shit with your industry expertise or go hog wild and make ForeSun where you 3d scan someone's pp and make a custom fitting set of solar eclipse glasses for dicks or whatever you get the point; you're better utilized making cool shit rather than fighting dickheads and I think if you get started building something that scares them your fuck off money offer gets sweeter

I'm done, this was half good idea and half warm up for a day of sales

Oh also do you want an ai protege, this guys got all the google certifications and stuff looking for insight into ai shit etc

Liked "You can't use shit you built for them but you can ..."

Laughed at "or go hog wild and make ForeSun where you 3d scan ..."

Man I was talking to some biotech people (a field I don't know shit about and they got on my list to begin with) and ended up getting someone an interview for a board spot with the sales pitch of "phd in ai biotech and she's got that dawg mentality which you as a Philly guy love"
